

NEW DIRECTIONS CREDIT TRACKER

New Directions credit tracker is not an official transcript; your district of residence will issue an official transcript. Our staff will track and maintain credits earned while here at New Directions. We will update the ND Credit Tracker twice a year and send it to your district office with the semester report cards.

Once your district indicates that the required credits have been earned, your student will then be approved for graduation. This can be determined at any point throughout the year.

Students can choose to have a ceremony here at New Directions, inviting family and friends to join, as well as participate in the graduation ceremony at their district of residence school.

New Directions keeps track of my credits earned, but the District issues the Official Transcript.
